Top links

[Photos] QRZ visits DX Engineering

While at the ARRL Centennial Convention in Hartford, I accepted an invitation from Tim Duffy, K3LR, the DX Engineering Chief Marketing Officer and General Manager, to visit the DX Engineering facility in Tallmadge, Ohio.
QRZ

Signal strength differences between JT65 software

I had a little argument about how JT65-HF and WSJT-X receives. Here are the results.
PE4BAS

Send Your Name on NASA's Journey to Mars

NASA is inviting the public to send their names on a microchip to destinations beyond low-Earth orbit, including Mars.
NASA

Kenwood TS-590S production has ceased

Often considered the best value for a sub $1,500 HF rig, the TS-590S had some big shoes to fill as the successor to the great TS-570.
QRZ

Smoky Mountain SOTA adventure

I've documented before what I love about the Summits on the Air program. I love the mountains, the views, the exercise, the fresh air, the sense of accomplishment and the planning and executing of a successful radio operation.
AD5A

Radio Amateur is among Nobel Prize in Chemistry winners

William Moerner, WN6I, of Los Altos, a chemistry professor at Stanford University, will share the prestigious award equally with two other researchers.
ARRL

TubeSats are coming

and Ulises 1, from Mexico.
AMSAT UK

Website devoted to Amateur Radio and OS X

I hope to share my love of amateur radio, while at the same time introducing as many people as possible to the great amateur radio software available on the world's greatest operating system -- OS X.
machamradio.com

Late October exercise to test MARS-ARES interoperability

US Army and Air Force Military Auxiliary Radio Service (MARS) stations will participate in a 48-hour nationwide contingency communication exercise on October 27 and 28 as part of an effort to develop greater cooperation between MARS and ARES.
ARRL

Video

High altitude balloon launch from Netherlands

Hak5 features hands-on video of a high altitude balloon launch, beacon in action.
Hak5

Introduction to data modes

An introduction to three popular data modes by Michael Sansom, G0POT.
G0POT

Ford Transit van converted to mobile Amateur Radio station

Simon Davison, 2E0HTS, has converted a Ford Transit van into a Ham Radio DX machine.
Southgate

How to

New LF / MF loop

VE7SL

And finally...

Marriott fined $600K for jamming Wi-Fi

Marriott International will pay the government a $600,000 fine for jamming conference attendees' own Wi-Fi networks at one of its hotels.
WKRN

Amateur Radio Weekly is curated by KK4HSX. Thank you for reading! 73!

Share this:

Amateur Radio Weekly is curated by KK4HSX. Thank you for reading! 73!